Business Overview

This is an exciting opportunity to take on a forward-thinking designer wear C.M.T manufacturer in the bustling capital of London.

Operating for approximately four years as a male and female designer wear C.M.T manufacturer in one of the world's fashion capitals, the business has gained a fantastic reputation for high quality garment production amongst those in the industry. The business handles each part of the production process with the utmost care and detail, from sampling all the way through to full production.

By liaising with distinguished designers which comprise the business's customer base, its workforce of 25 skilled employees transform the supplied patterns into innovative, durable garments.

An individual with a background in fashion production would benefit from a fully-equipped factory, team of reliable, hard-working staff and outstanding reputation, all of which can be utilised for further growth.

Business Description

The business runs from a 3000 sq ft, open-plan factory located on the second floor of a large property which can be accessed via stairs from ground level. This encompasses an extensive workspace, office, prayer room, storeroom and toilet facilities. The factory comes equipped with the latest machinery including 15 flat machines, four cutting machines and a large fusing machine to name just a few.

The business is fully insured for both raw materials and finished stock and is also health and safety certified with liability insurance.

A sleek and informative website provides the business with a professional online appearance and details its clients, contact information and its company ethos.

Opportunity

This is a rare opportunity to take on a respectable designer clothes manufacturer which comes complete with a list of acclaimed clients, highly experienced workforce and fully-fitted factory.

Ideal for an interested buyer who has knowledge and experience within the industry, a new owner could take steps to enhance the business's success and grow the turnover significantly.

Increasing the workforce would develop the business's overall efficiency and allow for a higher workload. This could be gained through existing clients and by developing an effective online marketing campaign to acquire new patronage.

As the current owner would be willing to stay on for a transitional period, the new proprietor would be given a complete handover of business operations.
