Business Description

The business is currently run from the owner's home in Uxbridge, London, which clients visit directly to receive a high quality massage. Due to the nature of the business, it must be relocated to a new premises which is still convenient for the current client base to access.

Run from an upstairs bedroom in the owner's house, a peaceful, meditative environment is created by dim lighting. A massage bed and washing facilities are provided for maximum comfort.

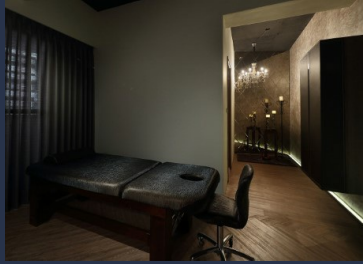

With no marketing in place, the owner has gained a large following mainly through word of mouth recommendation. Its website also boasts many health and wellbeing benefits of massages and showcases numerous testimonials from satisfied clients.

Opportunity

This is an excellent opportunity to take on a successful and flexible lifestyle business, ideal for a qualified masseuse looking to start their own business or as a bolt-on acquisition for a health and beauty salon.

Various initiatives can be introduced to take the business to the next level. Extending its marketing to social media platforms as well as leaflet drops would widen the business's exposure and help to attract more clients. Setting up a professional out of home premises which clients can visit would also be another way to gain more trade.
