Business Overview

Ideal for an individual with experience in this area, or an artist looking to take on a new business, the agency could be easily and smoothly taken over and grown as desired. Further marketing through multiple social media platforms or music-based forums would be a great way to attract more musicians to sign up with the agency. Proactively seeking new clients through telesales or similar marketing technique would also be effective. The business also has significant scope for growth outside of Manchester, an opportunity which has not yet been exploited. The current owner would be willing to discuss a transitional period in which to hand the business over to its new owner.

The business for sale is a professional online music agency, positioned at the forefront of Manchester's new music scene.

Operating successfully for around three years, the business aims to provide exceptional musicians to venues around Manchester for a range of occasions. The agency prides itself on listing the very best musicians, which in turn has helped it to build a fantastic reputation since inception in 2016.

Only being brought to the market due to the current owner's other business interests, this is a unique and exciting proposition which would be perfect for a music enthusiast or an individual with experience in this industry.
