Business Description

Covering various local areas in Hertfordshire and North London, the business's customer base comprises affluent home-owners, many with multiple properties in the vicinity who afford the business a high repeat workload. With the current owner operating the business from a home-based location, travelling directly to client's homes, a new owner could easily relocate the business. However, it would be advisable to stay within the realm of operation to continue servicing the current loyal client base.

The owner will provide an inventory of equipment included in the sale of the business on request.

Opportunity

Ideal for someone already working in the landscaping/household services industry, perhaps a small company looking to expand, a new owner could utilise this business as a bolt-on acquisition and develop it as they see fit.

The business would benefit largely from an online presence, therefore a new owner could create a website and social media platforms to promote the business and attract new customers. This could display its portfolio of work, list of services and accompanying prices.

The existing owner would be happy to stay on for a transitional period to pass the business over smoothly.
