The business for sale is a successful, home-based Au Pair agency, which specialises in hiring the best "Mother's Helpers" and is currently based in North London.

First established in 2016, the business has been growing steadily over the past few years. This Au Pair agency ensures that each child receives the very best treatment and care. The company have an extensive network of experienced Au Pairs and caregivers and work hard to meet the chosen specifications for each child.

Many families struggle to place the care of their child in the hands of a stranger; therefore, this business prioritises finding the very best helpers. Every candidate goes through a vetting procedure and all written references are verified in order to provide the best possible caregiving service.

Business Description

This online business is currently run from the owner's home but is relocatable. Despite this, London is a very popular area for Au Pairs. Therefore, it may be beneficial for a new buyer to stay within the current area of operation.

The current owners will stay to help with the first three months of the transitional period following the business takeover.

Opportunity

This is the ideal opportunity for a buyer who has previously operated within the Au Pair/ caregiving sector or for a start-up looking to gain the knowledge of an established agency.

There are plenty of opportunities for growth for someone who is willing to be proactive and invest time and money into advertising the business. Expanding the operating areas of the company could be another great way to help grow the business's presence.
