Business Overview

The business for sale is a commercial and domestic building work company, based in Rotherham, South Yorkshire. Founded in 2014, this long-running company was formed as a limited company. The original owners were both previously self-employed and decided to establish a new building services company that utilised their skills and extensive experience within the sector. The firm now boasts a fantastic reputation and an ever-expanding client base that reaches far beyond the core working area of their base in South Yorkshire.

The company focuses on offering a wide range of services to their clients, including joinery, electrical fixes, plastering, plumbing, brickwork, decorating, site management, and planning and design. While the firm still undertakes domestic contracts, they also fulfill projects in a variety of industries including hotels, schools, and care homes. Most recently, they have project-managed large commercial jobs including the day-to-day management of contractors and sub-contractors on site. The company will transfer over all pre-booked jobs for 2021 and beyond, which should ensure a steady flow of trade for the new owner.

This business has huge potential for growth, as there is a massive opportunity to develop the company's online presence and advertising efforts. With low overhead costs and brilliant turnover and adjusted net profit figures, this fantastic business would be the perfect opportunity for an operator in the building or house development sector.
